1,200 Babies to Parade in Asbury Park Wednesday

Children From All Over World to Appear in Annual Pageant; 150,000 Expected to Witness Procession; Crown Queen To-morrow

Special Dispatch to The Tribune
ASBURY PARK, Aug. 27.—With only a few more days left in which to enter babies for the thirty-first annual Asbury Park baby parade, entries are coming in at the rate of a hundred a day. Indications are that more than 1,200 children will be in line when the parade starts on Wednesday afternoon, according to Carnival Director Cottrell. Not only are babies from all over the United States being assembled here for the pageant, but there are several entries from Australia, China and East India, prominent among them being Francis and William Reilly, Shanghai, China; Alan and Berres Thomas, Surrey Hills, Australia; Jevarthanem Venkatakrishnaiah, of East India.

Hotel accommodations are already almost exhausted, and it is expected that fully 150,000 persons will see the parade. The procession will form on Ocean Avenue, march down that thoroughfare to the amphitheater, encircle it and pass in review before Asbury Park's Thirty-first Titania, Queen of the Carnival, Miss Hazel Virginia Williams; Governor Edward I. Edwards of New Jersey; Mayor Hylan of New York, and the judges of the parade.

Queen Will Be Officially Crowned on Monday

The maids who will form the court of honor, and who will be in attendance upon the queen, are Miss Beatrice Mabel Hall, of Asbury Park, Princess Cinderella; Miss Marie Delafille Miller, of 241 West 102d Street, New York; Miss Mercedes Marie Wagner, 2131 Broadway, New York; Miss Margaret De Mauley West, 1743 Q Street, Washington, D. C.; Miss Evelyn Kane, 604 Third Avenue, Asbury Park; Miss Sylvia Judith Baker, 220 Riverside Drive, New York; Miss Hannah Priemer, 493 Clinton Avenue, West Hoboken, N. J.

The queen will be crowned on Monday evening, August 29, in a ceremony in the Boardwalk Arcade, and the court ball, which will be given in her honor, will be held in the same building on the following evening. Since the naming of the queen and her court of honor, the social calendar has been filled with theater parties, teas, dinners and dances given for and by the maids and the queen herself.

Orchid violet and, of course, the royal purple with silver will form the color scheme of the court this year, but the robes of the princess, the queen and the maids for the royal ceremony are, as yet, a secret.

Everything at the Palace Monterey, where the flag of the house of Titania was raised last Saturday and where, during the coming week, the royal decorations will distinguish the building from all other residences in the city, revolves around the wishes and pleasures of the queen-elect.

Ladies of the Royal Court Hostesses at Theater and Dinner

Miss Sylvia Baker gave a theater party at the Savoy early in the week for the queen.

Wednesday evening Miss Mercedes Wagner and her maid entertained at the Theater at dinner. Following this dinner Miss Evelyn Kane, of the court ladies, gave a reception and dance at the Wampanoag Club. Thursday's program was filled by another theater party for the queen-elect and her court attendants, followed by a supper at the West Monterey Hotel. Miss Margaret West entertained with a tea at the Wampanoag Club. Miss Hanna Priemer with a dance at the Franklin this evening. Miss Beatrice E. Hall, who is the Princess Cinderella, will entertain with a theater party. Miss Marie Miller at a luncheon at Ross-Fenton Farm on Tuesday next, and Miss Williams, the queen, with a banquet at the Palace.

The card party held at the New Monterey Hotel on Thursday for the benefit of the Child Welfare Association proved to be one of the most successful events of the season. Always where the object is a charitable one the patronesses declare they are assured of success for their undertaking. A novel evening of music was enjoyed at the New Monterey on Wednesday. Henry Souvaine, pianist; Geraldine Marwick, soprano, and Sigmund Spaeth gave a recital.
